

They have quirks and characteristics

from a distance.

But if we do take the plunge

we may find something more rewarding.

HOW to LOVE

HH/52 asks:

Is falling in love with fictional characters keeping my chances of real life romance away?

Fictional characters are easy to love.

and we watch them safely and they will never match our fictional love.

Real people are scary

because we need to engage with them
